President's Message

Vivian Walsh

I would like to discuss our last Delegates' Meeting. Everyone has a right to speak his or her mind at these meetings. Right or wrong, they are due respect when they are speaking. At least give them a chance to voice their thoughts. There is no reason for shouting and forgetting that we are adults. Tempers don't have to be lost. Sometimes we act like children.

All residents can voice their opinions with a letter in the Reporter. Everyone has a right to voice his or her ideas. Please let us work together. What we want is to have a beautiful and serene Village.

We are planning to have our Vice Presidents hold classes on how to run your condominium Associations. These classes will be of help to all condominium Officers. Because many Associations are having administrative problems, I urge you to attend. Dates and times for these classes will be listed in an upcoming Reporter.

Work is being done on our new UCO Building and we are looking forward to moving in so that we can work in uncrowded offices. The roof has been completed and work has been started on the new air conditioning system. When this is completed, we will move forward to painting the exterior of the building.

Life is too short, so please let us work together for the benefit of all the residents. I thank you all for your kindness and cooperation.

Happy and healthy holidays to all.

Classes Open With a Bang for New Season

By Judy Roy

The last few months have been hot and wet. We have been lucky to be working inside on the season ticket orders. Starting in November, our residents will begin participating in the classes for the season.

We want to remind everyone that in order to take part in the classes that have a charge, it is necessary for you to pay and register for the class in advance of the day it begins. We will not take money for the class on the day it begins. Please don't ask the teacher to take your money at the door as that is not allowed and the teacher could lose their class if caught taking money at the door.

Hy Berger's Sketching class begins Tuesday, November 4 at 1:30 in the Art Room. Hy also teaches a Mixed Media Painting class on Fridays at 1:30. His first class will be Friday, November 14. This is a great class for those who have not had a great deal of experience with art classes or formal training in art. Hy is extending an invitation for anyone interested to stop in on his class on Friday, November 7 at 1:30 to see what goes on in class and what is covered in class. Please take him up on his invitation.

Our Ceramic teacher Gert starts her Ceramics classes on Tuesday, November 11 at 10:00. Gert also teaches a Clay class that is scheduled for Thursday, November 6 at 10:00. In Ceramics you are taught how to clean and paint pieces of greenware that are fired twice before you are done with the piece. In the Clay sessions, you will work with pieces of raw clay, many times working for weeks and weeks on just one piece. I have seen many beautiful baskets that have been made in the Clay class.

Many of you have passed the Party Room on Tuesday

UCO Dues Increase

By Marie Oliver, Treasurer

Time and time again, our residents have continued to request additional beautification of our Village. Couple this with the yearly increase in our operations budget, such as: payrolls, insurance, Social Security, workman's compensation, FICA and of course our substantial loss of bank interest.

Consequently, our UCO budget for 2004 is in a deficit mode. Therefore, the UCO operating budget for 2004 proposes a necessary increase in the UCO dues assessment of 38¢ per month, per unit. The new unit dues assessment will be an additional $4.56 per unit, per year, payable annually.

The complete UCO budget will be found on pages 8 and 9.

Special Delegate Assembly Meeting

There will be a special meeting of the Delegate Assembly on Friday, October 24, at 9:30 am in the Party Room of the Clubhouse.
Agenda: 2004 UCO Budget.

long-legged brunette moving along the dance floor as if on glass. What you are seeing is Dottie in her Line Dance class. She teaches dances from many different backgrounds and rhythms. Her new series begins on Tuesday, November 11 at 10:00 for Beginners and 11:00 for Intermediates. Dottie also teaches her classes on Thursday, November 6, with Beginners at 10:00 and Intermediates at 11:00. Ladies and men are both welcome to register.

November 13 at 11:00, Jerry Ziffer is going to hold a Free Tai-Chi demonstration at Hastings Health Club. You can take part in the class to see how you like it. The regular series of lessons will begin Thursday, November 20. The Intermediate students meet at 10:00 and Beginners meet at 11:00. Even though this class meets at Hastings, it is necessary for you to sign up and pay over at the Class Office at the Main Clubhouse.

Ed Chelm is back with his Glass Fusion classes. He starts lessons on Monday, November 17 at 1:00. You attend this class on both Monday and Tuesday. You will be glass pieces which are then baked in a kiln. They fuse together to create beautiful pieces of jewelry.

As I write this article, I have not yet heard that Mah-Jongg instructor Elaine Marshall is back yet. We are scheduling her class for Monday, November 17 at 10:00. Mah-jongg is one of the very popular games played here at Century Village.

Wire Wrap with Ed Chelm begins Thursday, November 20. This class also meets on Fridays at 1:00. This means you attend eight lessons in four weeks. In this class, students turn gold-filled wire into rings, bracelets, and other pieces of jewelry. Register early for this class as it only takes six to eight students.

Our Lapidary class will meet this season on Wednesdays and Thursdays, beginning on November 19 at 1:00. Instructor this season is Sal Bummolo. Many of you know him from the UCO Offices and from belonging to the old Lapidary, Fusion and Wire Wrap Club.

Since several of my teachers have not yet returned to Florida, we will have several

October 3, 2003 Treasurer's Report

In the absence of Marie Oliver, George Loewenstein reported on the cash balances, as per copy attached. This does not include investments.

President's Report

Vivian reported that George Loewenstein has been appointed to the Executive Board to fill a vacancy on the Board. She reported that referring to the new UCO Building, the roof is finished, and they are working on the air conditioning. The colors of the building will match those of the guard houses.

President Walsh then read the letter from Attorney Rod Tennyson regarding sexual offenders living in Century Village. The letter is on file in the UCO Office. Phil Shapkin explained the law. If you have a problem, we will contact Rod Tennyson. David Frankel explained that we must consult with Rod Tennyson before we reject anyone. He explained the method of investigation via First American Registry of Lakeland, Florida. We will give you their address, etc., if you come to the Office for it. There were Q&As. Bottom line — your building Association is responsible for who may come to live in your building. There are six Associations that do not investigate thru UCO.

Motions

Pat Blunck explained the following motions:

#1 — general contractor — $65,000 — contingent upon having available funds — by Shirley Epstein, seconded by Louise Gerson. Discussion, Pat read the items from the proposal, contract on file in the UCO Office. Where are funds coming from? George

Loewenstein stated that we have been promised $50,000 from the County. Work will not start until we get the money.

#2 — electrical contract — $17,000 — by June Fishman, seconded by Ed Bergman — motion was passed.

#3 — Proposed Bylaws Amendment.

Irv Lazar asked a brief bio of yourself if you are nominated to run for office.

Article VI-B — Irv explained this item: There are four Vice Presidents in office for a two year term. This Amendment will make only two VPs run every year, so that there will always be two experienced VPs in office. Moved by Kurt Weiss, Phil Shapkin — motion passed.

Article IV — re: change in UCO Bylaws: Members — moved by Irv Spevak, seconded by Lou Augenblick — see copy attached — in depth discussion with many Q&A — and many pros and cons. Every speaker was given three minutes time to talk. Votes were counted, one row at a time.

A total of 29 votes for the change. Motion was not passed. To pass a change in the Bylaws, a two-thirds vote is needed of the seated delegates.

Article VI — Officers — moved by Dan Gladstone, seconded by Norm Bartel. Discussion, voted. Motion was not passed.

Article X-B — Moved by Irving Goldstone, seconded by Stewart Goodman. First part — for the change — four votes. Second part — for elimination — 33 votes Motion did not pass.

No further business — meeting was adjourned at 11:35 am.

RE: Lifts

Per request of Dan Gladstone and Phyllis Richland we contacted Philadelphia Insurance Company. They provide the General Liability coverage for each association.

We asked them if coverage would extend to the lifts if individuals, groups of individuals, or associations would pay to have lifts installed in their buildings.

Philadelphia's reply was the General Liability coverage part will pick up all premise exposures, in the common area for the association not excluded by the policy

It doesn't matter who paid for the elevator or who voted for it or who uses it.

Beautification Committee

Edith Zedonek

As you can see, we are still in the process of planting in accordance with our overall beautification of the perimeter road. This is the first area everyone sees when entering the Village.

Some residents have complained that we are spending too much on beautification; however, it certainly increases our real estate values as is evident already. Beauty is in the eye of the beholder.

Much work and planning takes place before any plans are advanced. I think you will agree that the Village is much more attractive than it was several years ago. With your patience and understanding, we will have a more beautiful Village.

Please don't drive on the swales as we are having to repair sprinklers every day. Any questions or comments, please leave a note at the UCO office.

Insurance

Dan Gladstone

The highlights of the new statutes that were recently passed by the Legislature in Tallahassee confirms the importance of the homeowners' insurance (privately owned policy). This thought is enhanced with the experience of recent claims, especially for water damages. The $5,000 deductible of the Associations' policies and the coverage for the walls, ceilings and floors (as common elements) put the unit owner in great exposure.

The snowbirds will begin to arrive this month. Please be sure that they are aware that no obstacles are left on the catwalks and common areas.

If anyone needs information on his Association's policy, for mortgage, loan, etc., please call the UCO Office and we shall forward the information to whomever needs it.

Shortly, the Insurance Committee will look for the renewal of the 2004 policies. Let us hope that the insurance companies will be "easy with us." The numerous liability claims that we have had in 2003 will not help matters.

Transponder Update

By Sid Schuman

There have been many requests from residents who work outside the Village on a daily basis to buy transponders in the evening. Our volunteers have agreed to this request, so our only evening transponder sales will be held at the Camden Pool on Tuesday, November 11, from 7:00 to 9:00 pm. Please respect the wishes of our working residents and do not appear if you are not working.

The next regularly scheduled transponder sales date is Wednesday, November 19 at Temple Anshei Shalom between 9:00 and 11:00 am. In addition, the Transponder Committee (with permission from the synagogue) will have transponder sales on Wednesday and Thursday, December 17 and 18, from 9:00 to 11:00 am, and then again in January 2004 on Wednesday and Thursday, the 15th and 16th, from 9:00-11:00 am. Future sales dates will be publicized.

And now for some serious consideration: The rules regarding transponder sales appeared in the last issue of the UCO Reporter: ID card, driver's license and car registration (all valid), etc. are required. We also issued transponders to single unit owners who owned two cars. It has been verified that some two-car one-driver unit owners have given their second cars to family members or friends who do not live in our community, but now have unlimited access together with whomever they have as passengers in this second car.

Consequently, a transponder for a second car will not be issued unless there are two licensed drivers who have the required Century Village ID card. There will be no exceptions. Our Village is not meant to be an easy access for non-residents.

I trust that the affected residents will understand. Choose which vehicle you use for your daily needs, and we will attach the transponder to that vehicle. Thanks for your cooperation.

When you patronize our advertisers, let them know you saw their ad in the UCO Reporter

Security

David Bernstein

Ladies and gentlemen, there is a large sign as you approach the transponder scanner. It says "STOP! Wait for the gate arm to come down for the car in front of yours, and then approach the scanner." In plain language, it means do not tailgate the car in front of you. The gate arm is a one second response gate arm. It comes down quickly and you will hit it and break it. Stop and wait means just that. If you hit the gate arm and break it off, you will be responsible for paying to replace it. The cost is $159 for a gate arm. If you choose not to pay and we have to hire an attorney to sue you, you will then also be responsible for the attorney's fee, which runs close to $200 an hour. Be smart, be cautious, do not tailgate the car in front of you and break the gate arm. It will cost you big bucks.

Many of our winter residents are in the process of returning home to Florida. Our roads will once more be crowded. In addition, many new residents will be moving in very soon. Please obey the traffic regulations. STOP at the stop signs, obey the speed limit. The life you save may be mine.

Lastly, I want to wish all my neighbors a happy, healthy and sweet year.

Our first round of transponder installations is over and we are halfway through the second round as we go to press. Over two thousand transponders have been installed and are working at the present time.

Before I go on with further details and information on how to get your transponder. Let me say thank you on behalf of UCO and Security to all the wonderful residents who volunteered many hours of their time to record and install all the transponders. They will continue to do so until everyone who wants one has his. A very special thank you has to go to Sid Schuman, the chairman of the Transponder Installation Committee, for setting up the schedule, arranging a place and supervising the whole procedure. Also a special thank you to Sid's wife Dorothy, who was with him every step of the way. May you both go from strength to strength.

Lighting

Larry Kall

All of the originally planned lighting improvements undertaken by UCO have been completed, but we still find that there are many areas in the Village that could benefit from better lighting. The problem comes down to money. UCO has spent a considerable amount of money for lighting improvement over the past few years but at this point there are many other projects such as beautification and irrigation that will require considerable amounts of money also. Should funds become available, our Committee will look at other lighting projects in

In the meantime, we suggest that buildings and area Associations look at the possibility of upgrading their own lighting. There are many kinds of upgrades available that can utilize existing poles or lighting fixtures. There are buildings still using incandescent light bulbs when there are more efficient florescent bulbs that use less electricity. Most buildings still have the old style exit and emergency lights, which again are more expensive to operate than the more modern lights and fixtures available now. You can get better lighting and save money at the same time.

Programs & Services

Avis Blank

Good news: The bocci court on Duck Island is going to be refurbished, and a badly needed TV set has been ordered for the Computer Club. The Computer Club deserves a big hand for the superb job they do putting all the Century Village club news on Channel 63.

The public gathering places in CV are beginning to look fresher and cleaner. WPRF is quickly responding to the deficiencies that the Programs and Services Committee report to them.

The lottery for the New Year's Eve Dance will be held on Thursday, December 4, between 9:00 am and 12:00 noon at the Clubhouse Theatre.

There are no reserved tables, chairs or lounges at the pools. If you like a particular table or place to sit, please go to the pool early enough to make your selection. If your favorite spot is not available, please act like the ladies and gentlemen that you are, and quietly find another place to sit. This is called "living in peace and harmony."

It has come to my attention that a person became sick at the pool. No one in the area had a quarter to call 911. Somebody at the pool used a cell phone to call a Century Village resident and asked that person to call 911.

I called Bell South and was told that anybody can call 911 from a pay phone without using money. Just pick up the receiver and dial 911.

Please remember that the lightning in Florida is very dangerous. If you hear thunder in the distance, you can be struck by lightning, even though the sun is shining at your location. When you hear thunder in the distance while you are at the pool, you are in extreme danger of being struck by lightning. Please leave the pool and the pool-house area immediately.

Today, we lead a lifestyle that is very casual. Have you ever felt like royalty when attending one of the evening entertainments at the Clubhouse Theatre?

I feel like a princess because I attend "dressed to the nines" in relaxed evening attire. My chariot takes me to the front door. The entertainment is held in a beautifully decorated theatre with comfortable upholstered seats and a stage with real velvet curtains.

Out of respect to the audience, the Master of Ceremonies appears wearing a tuxedo. The entertainers wear tuxedos and evening attire. I feel like a princess because I am dressed like a princess out of respect to the entertainers who take me to a magical world of singing, dancing, musicals and comedy.

You can feel like royalty too. Think about it.

Happy Thanksgiving and I hope you all enjoy a magical 2003-04 season.

Transportation

Michael Spilken

By the time you read this article, most of our winter residents will be back from their summer homes. Welcome back to your winter oasis!

There have been many questions about our transportation system. The rumors about us taking a bus out of service are just that, a rumor. In discussing how we could cut costs by altering our six (6) bus routes, information was not yet formulated about how to effect the changes until a subcommittee can solve the problems we face. The subcommittee consists of Pat Blunck, Claire Schneider (an everyday rider), Pearl Shneyer and yours truly.

When we signed our contract with Capri Transit Inc., aka Community Transit, we used the hours and times from our previous routes for the larger buses. After going to our smaller, quieter and more pollution-friendly engines (unleaded gas, as compared to diesel fuel), we added hours for extra buses going to and from Publix, extra buses for show nights and the three (3) excursion buses.

The new schedule was predicated upon trying to make life in the Village easier. But, we did not make the proper adjustments to meet the contract specifications. It wound up that it was costing the Village between three thousand dollars ($3,000) and seven thousand dollars ($7,000) additional per month. This not only increases the contracted hours, but the coverage is added to the next annual contract. For instance, if the contract called for ten thousand dollars per month, then all the overages would be added to the base amount and then there is also a 3% COLI (Cost Of Living Increase). This would then be added to the balance of the life of the contract. We are trying to avoid having to increase your transportation assessment. If you add one dollar this year, the next year it would be two, and so on.

The Committee did surveys of how many residents ride the external buses on selected routes. What evolved was that the mall bus should have the 5:00 and 6:00 pm runs eliminated. The shuttle bus would now leave the Clubhouse at 10:00 am and will run until 6:35 pm. The express bus would start at 10:00 am and 3:00 pm.

The excursion bus goes to CityPlace and the Gardens Mall. We intend to switch this run from Tuesday to Wednesday so that you can take advantage of the Wednesday sales.

The internal buses (1, 2 and 3) will now run to Publix until 7:25 pm.

The Transportation Committee voted unanimously to accept this new format. I trust that you, our valued residents, will accept these changes.

The proposed changes will go into effect with approval from the transit company and UCO.

Election Guidelines

The UCO Reporter has been neutral in the election of Officers of UCO and will remain so. We will not print any campaign articles by candidates or others pertaining to this election with the following exception:

After the nominations have been made, the Reporter will give each candidate for President and Vice President two columns of space in the March 2004 issue to comment on their background experience, their accomplishments in UCO and CV in the past and what their plans are for the future.

There is to be no mention made of opposing candidates by name or intimation.

This campaign should be conducted in as dig-

ROAD RULES AT INTERSECTIONS

1. If you are making a turn you are required to SIGNAL. This is not only the law it is also essential for safety.
2. The first vehicle to reach the intersection has right of way.
3. If more than one vehicle reaches the intersection at the same time the vehicle on the right has right of way.
4. Do not assume that any other driver knows these rules. Pull out of an intersection cautiously and, if possible, signal with a gesture to the other driver(s).

Squared Off

Those of us old enough to remember the original Hollywood Squares game will appreciate these from the 70s, when responses were truly spontaneous — and I might add — politically, happily, incorrect!

Q: Jackie Gleason recently revealed that he firmly believes in them and has actually seen them on at least two occasions. What are they?

A: Charley Weaver — His feet.

Classes in CV

more classes beginning in December, such as Bridge, Dancercise, Canasta, Conversational Yiddish, News in Review, Jewish History, Line Dance With Sydelle, and Glass Fusion.

A last minute addition to my November classes is the ever-popular Calligraphy class with Harold Bernstein. Classes will meet Monday, November 24 at 9:30. Students like this class and they even laugh at Harold's jokes.

We will be in the Class Office during limited hours the last two weeks in October and then, beginning November 1, our regular hours for registration, Monday through Friday from 9:00 to 12:00, and from 1:00 to 4:00.

Welcome back to all of our friends who are escaping the dipping temperatures of the northern areas.

See you in the Class Office and we all look forward to helping you become very busy this season.

The Mail Bag

Be a Part of It

It was refreshing to see so many people at the last UCO meeting. It is unfortunate that the only time we can get a full house is when everyone listens to rumors they think might inconvenience them.

In a large condominium complex such as Century Village, everything that is done is for the betterment of the entire Village, not for just a few individuals. Every day, we have to make some compromises. The best solution is come join us — volunteer — you may have some good ideas. Be a part of the solution, not the problem!

are carefully set by experience and "even enforcement." I use the term "even enforcement" because this concept is to treat every applicant the same. This can save your Association from problems that arise from "selective enforcement"

Recently, an Officer came into the Investigation Office to have a daughter of the unit owner become an additional occupant. Since the daughter was under the 55 minimum age, we advised him that the procedure for her being considered a "hardship exception" was to have a physician indicate what qualifies the daughter for this exception. Please understand that this is the way to establish a medical hardship. It provides for a requirement that a doctor supply proof of the basis for the exception, rather than a building Officer making a decision without the facts. This system of evaluation establishes a routine that will provide a basis for rejecting those who just want their underage relative to live in the Village even if they are not of age. If administered evenly, it is also enforceable. No building Officer wants to report to their board that they have an "equal opportunity/discrimination" complaint, and have to pay for the legal defense necessitated by such a complaint. Remember, with our experiences and in consultation with our attorney, we hope to help you avoid such concerns.

Praise for Channel 63

I am so impressed with the lovely presentation on Channel 63.

My compliments to Howard Silver and his Committee. If we didn't reside in Century Village in West Palm Beach, after seeing that presentation, I would move here.

Thank you so much, Howard Silver, et al.

A Word of Caution

Eve and I have only been in the Village for the last couple of years. I have found the fastest way to become informed is to become involved. As a result, I joined the Investigation Committee a few months ago. It has been quite educational, primarily because the procedures, which have been formulated,

Thank You, Howard Silver

I want to thank Howard Silver for the wonderful job he has done on our channel 63 organization news. It is informative, clear and a delight with all the wonderful pictures of our Village. We are so fortunate to have such knowledgeable and capable people living in our Village and willing to donate so much of their time.

The Golfer's Ode

In my hand I hold a ball,
White and dimpled, rather small

Oh, how bland it does appear,

This harmless looking little sphere.

By its size I could not guess,

The awesome strength it does possess

But since I felt beneath its spell,

I've wandered through the fires of hell

My life has not been quite the same,

Since I chose to play this game.

It rules my mind for hours on end,

A fortune it has made me spend.

It has made me curse and cry,

I hate myself and want to die

It promises a thing called par,

If I can hit it straight and far

To master such a tiny ball,

Should not be very hard at all.

But my desires the ball refuses,

And does exactly as it chooses

It hooks and slices, dribbles and dies,

Or disappears before my eyes

Often it will have a whim,

To hit a tree or take a swim

With miles of grass on which to land,

It finds a tiny patch of sand

Then has me offering up my soul,

If only it would find the hole.

It's made me whimper like a pup,

And swear that I will give it up.

And take to drink to ease my sorrow,

But the ball knows I'll be back tomorrow

The Truth, the Whole Truth

Some writers are interesting. They hold the reader's attention and are thought-provoking. Some are dull and make the reader turn the page swiftly. Some do not write at all, but have a ghost-writer put into words what they would like to say, but do not have the ability to do so.

It is not the style of one's writing that is important. It is the truth, or absence thereof, which decides whether an essay, or any article for that matter, is worthy of the reader's attention and consideration.

The editors' job is tough. They are the final arbiters of what is printed and what is not. There is no way to satisfy everybody's desire to have their article or letter published. However, there must be guidelines which enable both the writer and the readers to anticipate what is "fit to print." This is not and never should be a question of being politically correct, nor should it be an attitude of not wanting to upset the apple cart.

There is room in a paper for diverse opinions which can easily be countered by editor's remarks or a response. An article or letter certainly should never be rejected because the powers that be do not like it. I do not recall a time — any time — during my administration when an article was not published because I did not agree with its contents. If there was something in it that I found objectionable, I vigorously responded to it.

Nobody is infallible. We all make mistakes. But for us to learn from them and prevent them from recurring, they must be pointed out to us. This can only be done when there is a free press which publishes opinions pro and con so that the reading public can decide what is truth and what is eye wash, make believe, fiction or worse.

We are lucky in Century Village to have an editorial staff who lives and acts on these principles.

By Dot Loewenstein

Have you noticed our birds? They are so different from the ones we knew as children, when we lived up North. To us, the South Florida birds are exotic. But, first of all, I've learned that the word "exotic" seems to refer to non-native species (trees, birds, etc.). Now, let's see how many I can identify:

The little white ones with the curved orange bills, that we see in groups of ten or twelve in the morning — they are called Ibis, pronounced eye-biss. This is very helpful as you drive past signs mentioning Ibis Country Club. Next in size is the Blue Heron, which really looks to be gray, not blue. We don't see him very often, but his older brother the Egret is visible near our many lagoons. Bird watchers call him "Greg," which is the first two letters of Great and Egret. He is quite majestic with his neck stretched out, while he daintily steps in the shallow water looking for nourishment.

My favorite, however, is the Anhinga, also known as snake bird. When he swims underwater, which few birds do, all that is visible is his head and neck — he looks just like a snake. But when he comes out and perches on a branch, he spreads his mighty wings open to a span of about three feet. The sight is magnificent. Look for the Anhinga on a water pipe, for example, stretching his wings to dry.

We also have Wood Storks, which are gray and white, with rather straggly feathers. Much prettier and taller are the Sand Hill Cranes, which normally migrate on a path from Mexico thru Texas to the north. It's rather unusual to spot them here in South Florida. They travel in pairs, stand about four feet high, and have bright red crowns. The noise they make is similar to a New Year's Eve noise-maker, and loud!

Reports

As is my costume every summer, I returned to my home planet, Villcentia, to make my report of Earthly doings at a meeting of the Villcentian Academy of Science.

While there I renewed my relations with my family, friends and acquaintances. Upon my return to your planet Earth, I now tell you of my experiences on Villcentia.

This summer, after an abcess of one year, I arrived and was greeted as usual with a standing ovulation. Even the capstan of the police was there to greet me. After the usual excitement of my return, it was time for me to spend some time with people close to me.

To bring me up to date with recent events, I was told that my closest friend was in danger of losing his eyesight. His oculist had informed him that he had a detached rectum in his right eye. The same oculist also discovered immaculate generation in the eyes of another friend My youngest nephew had a throat infection and had to have his utensils removed. An accident to an aunt had caused loss of memory and she was suffering from magnesia. It seems that when misfortunes strike, they do so in groups. But enough of a copulation of illnesses.

On a happier note, I attended a concert which is usually held at this time of the year, and sitting in my reserved seat in the magazine section of the hall. I listened to professional and armature musicians featuring a strumpet concerto, a credenza played on the clavicle and my favorite jazz and jibe music.

I also attended the wedding of two couples when they were united in holy acrimony. My niece just received her M D degree and was due to take her hypocritical oath.

The too-short visit on Villcentia was a refreshing experience, and now I return to Earth to continue my research among Earthlings

Seniors are Never Too Old to Be a Victim of Crime

By Michelle Brown

Sonnie Sussel doesn't like to reveal her age or where she lives in Palm Beach County. She's very careful about giving out that kind of information because as a volunteer advocate for the Area Agency on Aging in West Palm Beach, she knows what it could lead to. Sussel is typically the first person to call another area senior who has been the victim of a crime — whether it is a burglary, mugging, break-in or carjacking.

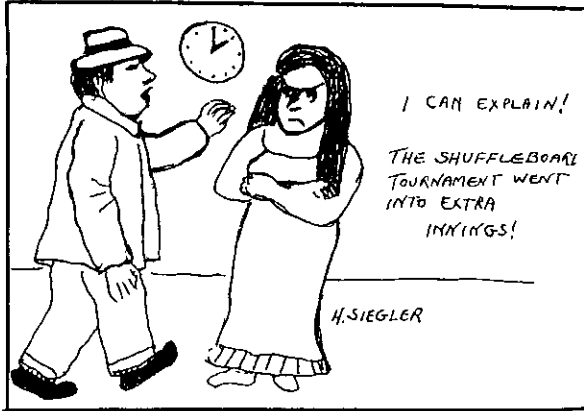

She befriends the older residents who may not know how to navigate the insurance channels, seek out counseling or get started in their lives again. Additionally, she spreads the word on how to avoid becoming a victim in the first place.

"I caution them that when they've got their pocketbooks and are walking slowly, they're targets," Sussel said. "I tell them put your Visa credit card and your license in your pocket and leave the rest at home."

In addition to physical crimes, seniors, like other people, are increasingly becoming victims of identity theft. Sussel said this presents a special problem for seniors who must keep their insurance cards on them in case of a medical emergency; however, the cards usually bear the carrier's Social Security number, which can be used to impersonate them if stolen.

The Area Agency on Aging handled 120 cases of crime against seniors during July, August and September 2002, said Mary Jones, the agency's elder crime intervention specialist. Jones coordinates the volunteers who work with the victims. She also works with law enforcement agencies that provide them with police reports on area crimes against people 50 years of age or older. Through their advocacy, Jones and the volunteers try to instill in seniors a sense of vigilance in being aware of their safety and creating a network of support.

Fantasy — Reality

Suddenly lots of TV shows are pushing grim reality —
Scram, Prince Charming...
scat, Snow White,
Life's tough as it can be.
Characters diving in vats of worms...
Stupid loving planned...
Bachelors looking for a bride,
Survivors eating off the land...
What kind of mishigas is this?
Where's the tenderness of life?
The interchange of man and maid?
Must everything be woe and strife?
No poverty in my regencies...
Marry rich and dark and handsome,
Heroine kidnapped for her dough
Black browed lord will pay her ransom...
We know life ain't a bed of roses
But sometimes miracles occur...
Lords in love with governesses
Men untouched by duels
and war...
As a little girl I read my tales
Each with a (somehow)
happy trend
Good guys marrying worthy girls
Sweetness and light to the very end...
Is it wrong to believe in miracles?
Does everything end up
gloomy?
Where is the sweetness in our lives?
Prithee, send it to me...
Phooey on reality...

Junk Philosophy

Never raise your hands to teenagers. It leaves your groin unprotected.

I'm not into working out. My philosophy is no pain, no pain.

I'm in shape. Round is a shape.

I'm desperately trying to figure out why Kamikaze pilots wore helmets.

Do illiterate people get the full effect of alphabet soup?

I've always wanted to be somebody, but I should have been more specific.

Ever notice when you blow in a dog's face he gets mad at you, but when you take him in a car he sticks his head out the window?

Ever notice that anyone going slower than you is an idiot, but anyone going fast-

You have to stay in shape. My mother started walking five miles a day when she was 60. She's 97 now and we have no idea where she is.

I have six locks on my door, all in a row. When I go out, I lock every other one. I figure no matter how long somebody stands there picking the locks, they are always locking three of them.

One out of every three Americans is suffering from some form of mental illness. Think of two of your best friends. If they are OK, then it must be you.

They show you how detergents take out bloodstains. I think if you've got a T-shirt with bloodstains all over it, maybe your laundry

Ask people why they have deer heads on their walls and they tell you it's because they're such beautiful animals. I think my wife is beautiful, but I only have photographs of her on the wall.

A lady came up to me on the street, pointed at my suede jacket and said, "Don't you know a cow was murdered for that jacket?" I said, "I didn't know there were any witnesses. Now I'll have to kill you too."

Singing Twins Still in Tune

Anne and Eileen Goodman were born on New Year's Day, 1922, and to this day even their own sister, Jeanette Berman of Wellington F, can't always tell the twins apart. "Especially on the phone," said Eileen, "she always asks which one of us is speaking."

Flashback to World War II: The beautiful Goodman twins

had a stage name by then — the Terry Twins — and by the end of the conflict, they had greeted three and a half million soldiers with song as they sailed into New York Harbor.

Their stint with Special Services at the Brooklyn Army Base was the high point of the Terry Twins' career as a singing duo. But music and performing was a family legacy. "Our mother loved music and was very outgoing — like us," recalled Eileen. Anne cannot remember a time when the twins didn't respond to music. "We only wanted to sing," she said. "That was the only thing in my mind."

So, naturally, by the time the twins were six, their vivacious mother was bundling them off from Brooklyn to Manhattan to perform on radio shows like the Horn and Hardart Hour and Major Bowes. The rest is show biz history.

Growing up, the Terry Twins used their talents to work the Catskill Borscht Circuit every summer: the Hotel Evans in Loch Sheldrake, Grossingers, the Concord and others.

Together the twins tell the harrowing story of their gig at a place called the Rustic Cabin in Northern New Jersey. "We did not know it, but the owner was a Nazi sympathizer with guns and ammunition in the basement," said Anne. "The place blew up at 4 am," said Eileen. "And we lost all our music and arrangements and gowns. We were left with no insurance and no money."

Anne recalls that social and professional life was always easy for the twins. "We didn't have to do anything. As soon as we entered a room we became the center of attention," she recalled.

Not only do Anne and Eileen still have that unique bond found between identical twins, other family feelings are close and loving. They speak admiringly of their mother's activism (she served on the local rationing board in World War II) and also of their father's enduring influence. "He was an immigrant, and dearly wanted us to be American," said Anne "He encouraged us to study American history. And that is still our favorite reading — along with mysteries, which we adore."

Marriage and children separated the Goodman twins for 35 years. Both are widows now: Anne Kressler of Dover A and Eileen Edman of Bedford J. But after they bought nearby condos in Century Village they found that special bond was as strong as ever.

The game of fooling people about which sister is which is still fun and laughter and bantering come easily to the sisters. Their tastes in clothes are the same, so they sometimes still dress alike.

They are also animated and outgoing when engaged in the serious stuff: music at the Kravis, local senior choruses, reading American history and (most of all) enthusiasm and hard work for liberal causes and the Democratic Party.

The Vial of Life program is nationally recognized as saving countless lives each year by providing EMS services with pertinent medical information during an emergency.

When the dispatch rescue team arrive at your home, they will know there is a Vial of Life form on your refrigerator.

Please feel free to phone me for the forms at 687-4480. My email address is ebbiejake@aol.com. I will also be at the Clubhouse in Class Room C on Tuesdays from 9:00 to 11:00 am.

This can also be done for your automobile.

Called 211
Recently?

By Bob Marshall

Well, have you? I suspect many of you are asking the same question I asked. What is this? Actually I reached this number by the back door.

I have power of attorney and health for a 94-year-old aunt. In assuming this duty, I found a complication that I never would have suspected. She taught school for 47 years, never married and never worked outside the teaching field. This means that she is not eligible for Part A of Medicare and means that any health insurance available to her is more than she can afford to pay and still live at home.

There is much more to this story, however, I need to get back to 211.

During the above mentioned research, I began to wonder about similar folks living in Century Village and what services were available and how they were accessed.

When I lived "up North" I worked with the Council on Aging. This organization sponsored Meals on Wheels, home healthcare and other programs. I could not find a listing for this organization here. After many false starts,

I finally reached the folks who operate the 211 line.

Here, you can find services like the elder help line, crisis line, telephone reassurance line and more. However, these services do not find the people in need. They must search for a way to find the service, which can be difficult for them.

I have talked with the director of community education for this group, and, with a copy of this article, I'm asking Vivian Walsh for permission to invite these folks for a "show and tell" at a future Delegates Meeting.

A Warning Re: Heating Water in Microwave

A man decided to have a cup of coffee. He took a cup of water and put it in the microwave to heat it up (something that he had done numerous times before). He wanted to bring the water to a boil. When the timer shut the oven off, he removed the cup from the oven. As he looked into the cup, he noted that the water was not boiling, but instantly the water in the cup "blew up" into his face.

The cup remained intact until he threw it out of his hand but all the water had flown out into his face due to the build up of energy. His whole face is blistered and he has first and second degree burns to his face which may leave scarring. He also may have lost partial sight in his left eye.

While at the hospital, the doctor who was attending to him stated that this is a fairly common occurrence and water (alone) should never be heated in a microwave oven. If water is heated in this manner, something should be placed in the cup to diffuse the energy such as a wooden stir stick, tea bag, etc. It is, however, a much safer choice to boil the water in a tea kettle.

General Electric's Response

G.E. was questioned regarding the above and their response was: Microwaved water and other liquids do not always bubble when they reach the boiling point. They can actually get superheated and not bubble at all.

The superheated liquid will bubble up out of the cup when it is moved or when something like a spoon or tea bag is put into it. To prevent this from happening and causing injury, do not heat any liquid for more than two minutes per cup.

After heating, let the cup stand in the microwave for thirty seconds before moving it or adding anything into it.

PBC Sheriff's Volunteer Honor Guard

By Joan Nordhauser

I am the Captain of the Bike Patrol of Palm Beach, member of the C.O.P. Car Patrol and the Honor Guard. I would like to tell you about Alex Leibowitz, a Sergeant in the Civilian Observer Patrol (C.O.P.) in C.V. Unit #43, West Palm Beach, Florida, for the past three years.

Sergeant Leibowitz was in the first class of the Honor Guard which graduated on May 8, 2002. The Honor Guard serves at the Sheriff's discretion. What drew Alex to join was his interest in honoring the deceased and performing services to our departed members. The motto of the Honor Guard is "We serve those who served us."

Alex retired from the NYC Transit Authority as a supervisor. He was responsible for several hundred people. After retirement, he was a consultant in the track department as a teacher for the Transit Authority.

Alex also volunteered in UCO for several years. He was on six Committees and served as area President for Kent. He and his wife Evelyn reside in Kent C.

Alex and his wife both serve in the Honor Guard. Evelyn has the rank of Lieutenant. Both are members of the C.O.P. as well as the Rovers in the Sheriff's Department.

The Rover car is provided by the Sheriff's Office, along with uniforms and training. Alex and Evelyn cover areas where they are needed most in District #85. They cover Westgate, Drexel Road, Lake Crystal, Benoit Farms, etc.

Their loyalty and dedication is appreciated by all.

From Our Attorney

By Sachs, Sax & Klein, P.A.

What is the Effect on the Association When a Unit Owner is Delinquent in Their Mortgage Payments?

It happens all of the time Unit owners get in over their heads and fail to make their monthly mortgage payments. Inevitably, they fail to make their regularly occurring assessment payments to the association as well. How does this affect the association's ability to collect delinquent maintenance assessments?

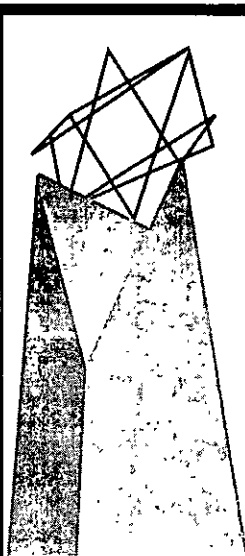

The filing of a claim of lien will ensure that, should the unit owner fail to pay his or her mortgage, the association will be served in any foreclosure proceedings filed by a mortgagee of the property. This is important as, at that point, the association would have the opportunity to monitor the action. In addition, if the property is sold at a foreclosure sale, and a third party purchases the unit at the sale, it is very possible that the association may recover some, if not all, of the assessments and costs of collection from the court registry as surplus funds may remain after disbursement to the mortgagee.

When a bank holding a mortgage files for foreclosure, the association legally still has the ability to foreclose upon its own lien. However, there are risks involved when proceeding in this manner. Should the unit owner fail to settle his or her debt to the bank, the matter will inevitably conclude with the property being sold at foreclosure sale. The association will likely end up losing costs and attorneys fees incurred in the action dealing with the association's lien. Furthermore, all delinquent assessments would have to be written off as the bank's rights to the property are legally superior to the association's. As such, unless a third party purchases the unit at foreclosure sale for a price above the judgment amount due to the bank, it is unlikely that the association will recover any monies in this situation.

It should be noted that, if the association is a condominium association subject to Chapter 718, Florida Statutes, the association is entitled to either one percent (1%) of the mortgage amount or six months worth of assessments, whichever amount is less, once the property is sold at foreclosure sale. Should the person acquiring title to the unit by virtue of foreclosure sale fail to pay the amounts due to the association within thirty (30) days after transfer of title, the association has the right to record a claim of lien against the unit.

In light of the foregoing, it is important to note that an association that is served with a mortgagee foreclosure action should immediately bring that action to the attention of their legal counsel in order to preserve all of their rights under their governing documents and Florida law.

New County Budget Puts Public's Safety First

A new budget has been adopted, taking effect on October 1. The $3.1 billion package was approved without raising the mileage rate, marking the sixth straight year commissioners have held the line. We continue to effectively manage our county's explosive growth and fund important programs and projects, while keeping a safe amount in reserves.

One thing that kept coming up during the public hearing process was the need for more law enforcement patrols, especially in low-income, high-crime unincorporated communities. We wanted the Sheriff to develop a plan to put more deputies on the street without passing the costs onto taxpayers. The Sheriff recommended hiring 26 new deputies and the Board agreed, specifying that the deputies would be assigned exclusively to economically depressed neighborhoods, including three newly-designated CCRT zones near Greenacres, Haverhill and Canal Point.

I strongly supported the move because I believe the best way to help these areas is by first making the streets safe. When residents are no longer afraid to go outside at night or to visit the neighborhood park down on the corner, they will begin working together to make things better.

We also approved 14 more regular patrol deputies — again at no additional cost to taxpayers.

Free Tolls With Your SunPass

Would you use the turnpike, if a few trips were free? The Metropolitan Planning Organization is betting you will. They have approved a SunPass incentive plan using $1 million in federal transportation funds. It provides a credit of $15 in tolls when you set up a new SunPass account. (Yes, you still have to put down a $25 deposit for the transponder, but we're working on a way to get that reduced or waived.)

SunPass is very convenient. It allows you to cruise right through the interchange without having to stop at the toll window, and you're billed automatically. For more information on how to obtain your card, call toll free 1-888-865-5352. Enjoy your trip!

Hurricane Check List

Below is a list of things you should do before, during and after a hurricane. This short list was put together from all the information the Emergency Committee could find.

Things To Do Now

1. Review your insurance policy
2. Call the UCO Office if you must depend on electricity for your life support in any manner. Example, oxygen, refrigeration for insulin, etc.
3. If you want to install shutters, speak with your association president. Storm panels are recommended. (Note: Century Village is not an evacuation area. Our buildings and our area are considered very safe in a hurricane.)
4. If you are leaving for the hurricane season, remove or secure all items on your patio. Take them inside. Remember it is not the wind that destroys but the objects the wind throws around that causes destruction
5. Trim all your trees.
6. Select a safe room in your apartment away from windows and doors and all flying debris. Example. Use your bathroom if it has no windows, or a hallway.
7. Check stair lights and emergency lights on building
8. Make arrangements to secure awnings.

Things To Do One Or Two Days Before The Storm

1. Remove all patio furniture.
2. Install your shutters — lower awnings
3. Remove recyclable containers to your laundry room and secure your dumpsters. Tie down lids.
4. Fill your car's gasoline tank
5. Turn your refrigerator and freezer to its coldest settings and freeze water in plastic jugs. They will keep food colder longer, if electricity goes off, and when thawed out can be used for drinking.
6. Wear your Medic Alert tag.
7. Clean your bathtub and then fill with water for sanitary purposes. This is not for drinking
8. Place all your valuables, such as treasured pictures, personal papers, insurance papers, etc., in waterproof containers or plastic garbage bags. Store them on the top shelf of the closet. Also wills, contracts, deeds and bonds, passports, Social Security cards, bank accounts, immunization cards, birth certificates, etc.
9. Secure checkbook, cash, ATM card. Do not leave valuables in a home safe during the hurricane.
10. For those on electric assisted oxygen: Get the necessary portable tanks for their needs (2-hr., 6-hr., or 7-day supplies) in case of prolonged power outages
11. For those on insulin: Get a small insulated cooler and ice packs so you can keep insulin cool during outages without many trips to the refrigerator.
12. For all emergencies: Call 911
13. For further information: Contact the offices of UCO at 683-9189. Ask for Vince Salvo, Dan Salvo, Irv Lazar, Dave Bernstein

Kit Check List

1. Water — the most important! One gallon per person, per day.
2. Packaged foods — canned meats, fruits, vegetables, juices, milk, soup, sugar, salt, pepper, peanut butter, jelly, crackers, granola bars, cookies, hard candy, sweetened cereals, instant coffee, tea bags.
3. Manual can opener (not one operated by electricity)
4. Toiletries — toilet paper, soap, feminine supplies, denture needs, extra eyeglasses
5. First aid kit — bandages, gauze pads, tape, scissors, tweezers, needle, antiseptic, safety pins, sunscreen, aspirin
6. Battery operated radio
7. Extra batteries for flashlights, radio, etc. and charge rechargeable batteries.
8. Candles
9. Eating utensils — paper cups, plates, plastic knives and forks.
10. Extra medicine — prescriptions
11. Flashlights.
12. Matches.
13. Mosquito repellent
14. Plastic trash bags — to store many of the items in this section
15. Portable cooler
16. Change of clothing
17. Entertainment — games and books.

During the Hurricane

1. Stay in your safe room or hallway.
2. Close and stay away from all windows
3. If electricity goes off, use only flashlights during the storm.
4. Keep on your person at all times keys to home and car, driver's license, cash.
5. Bring into the safe room a pillow or mattress in case you need to cover yourself from flying debris. Also bring in as many items from the hurricane list as you can — especially water
6. If no electricity, use your battery-operated radio and tune in to FM 100.7 Y-100, 107.9 WIRK, 102.3 WHLG, AM 1290 WBZT, 1450 WSTV. Don't listen to rumors. Get the truth from the radio.

After the Hurricane

1. Stay tuned to the radio for instructions
2. Don't use the telephone unless you have a life-threatening emergency
3. Don't use electrical appliances until they are dry.
4. Don't drink tap water unless you are told it is OK. Boil the water for five minutes before using.
5. Do not refreeze thawed out food. If electricity is out, try store foods in freezer compartment.
6. Your Security and COP rover cars will be around to make sure all buildings are secure.
7. If you are able-bodied and would like to assist your troubled neighbors, report to the Command Post — the old UCO office by the Camden Pool.
8. After the storm, if you have problems, call the UCO office at 683-9336 and speak to the Emergency Committee. Ask for Messrs Salvo, Lazar, or Bernstein

Random Ramblings

Robert Fogelman

I thought I was going to have a very bad few days last weekend. Though somewhat under the weather, I was nevertheless glued to my television, hoping to watch my Florida Marlins baseball team virtually slay the San Francisco Giants.

Did they do it? You're darn tootin' they did! 65,444 fans at the Pro Player Stadium here in Florida, plus millions of TV viewers watch these heart attack innings until the last out occurred by a collision at home plate, with the Marlins catcher holding on to the ball. Phew!

May I make a couple of suggestions? If ever you have any questions regarding any operation of UCO, whether it be financial, procedures, investigation, policies, insurance or whatever concerns you as a unit owner, please come into the UCO Office and speak to one of the Officers for the correct information. Do not, do not, believe or pass on pool or bus rumors.

It is not fair to the audience, to the Delegates and to the UCO Offices to take the time involved to expect answers from questions from left field which have nothing to do with the published agenda. This is not a town meeting, so come into UCO for answers to your questions

Another suggestion is to read this UCO Reporter in its entirety. Ask your neighbors if they have read it also. It is full of important information.

By the way, have you noticed the increase in police, crime and law enforcement programs on television? How many are there — eight, nine or ten? Is this really what we want to see? Do they have to show us the cutting up into human bodies on crime dramas and hospital scenes? Am I getting too old for these kinds of programs? Maybe with all the petitions we sign here in Century Village, we ought to get up another petition to send to the TV stations.

To all the residents and visitors in Century Village, I wish you all a healthy, sweet

Allow me to pass on to you some information about our Century Village. It is composed of 309 incorporated individual condominiums, each with their Board of Administration. There are 7,854 units in these condominiums, which could accommodate over 15,000 residents, with our widows and widowers and renters during our winter season. I estimate that our seasonal population must be in the high 13,000 to 14,000.

We have our own security force, the best transportation system in south Florida, 14 pools and two Clubhouses. Having said all this, exactly what is my point? It's this: over the years, I probably have been in over two dozen units and believe me, no two were alike.

On Wednesday evening, I am usually in the C.O.P. car for three hours. Many, many unit owners leave their blinds up and I get a glimpse of the interior as we drive past. I have never seen two units even remotely similar from the dining room light to the pictures on the wall, lamps and furniture. They are all different.

In your wildest dreams, imagine you could go into each and every unit to take pictures of the room's layout and all the various furniture and furnishings. Do you really think you would find two the same, or even very similar? Now that's my whole point! 7,854 units and all different. So, what does that say about the 14,000 people here in Century Village? We are not inordinate objects, we have different cultures, different backgrounds, different approaches to different situations, so the next time you disagree, count to ten, and then count to ten again.

Residents Earn AED Certification

By Dot Loewenstein

An AED (Automated External Defibrillator) was purchased by Congregation Aitz Chaim on September 26, 2003. The cost of $3,000 was partially defrayed by donations from several congregants. Training was provided by Darryl Mitchell, EMT, from the Greenacres Fire Rescue Squad. Residents now certified to operate this equipment include (left to right in photo) Nat Buntzis; George Loewenstein; Herb Forman, President; Jack Spund; Paul and Dolly Rothenberg; and Anita Koch. Not pictured is Mario Laserna, custodian, who was also among the trainees.

The AED device determines on site if a shock is needed, based on its automated assessment of the victim's heart rhythm. If a shock is needed, the defibrillator directs the technician to press the flashing orange "shock" button. Then it delivers a dose of low energy biphasic therapy, a highly effective defibrillation wave form that is also gentle to the heart. If a shock is not needed, the apparatus instructs the user to assess the patient and to perform CPR when necessary. It also reminds the individual to call Emergency Medical Services, and should a summary of care be needed, it can be retrieved from the AED's internal memory.

Between uses, the defibrillator performs daily, weekly and monthly self-tests of its electrical components, subsystems and four-year battery to help ensure continued reliability and readiness.

How to Survive a Heart Attack — Alone

The greatest concern of living alone is the fear of getting sick or having a heart attack while alone. This is copied from Health Cares, Rochester General Hospital via Chapter 204's newsletter And the Beat Goes On (reprint from The Mended Hearts, Inc. publication Heart Responses).

It is worth the attention of all our residents.

For example: You may be really tired, upset and frustrated. Suddenly, you start to experience severe pain in your chest which starts to radiate out into your arm and up into your jaw. You are alone and concerned. You may have been trained in CPR, but the guy that taught the course neglected to tell you how to perform it on yourself. This article seemed to be in order since many people are alone when they suffer a heart attack. The person whose heart stops beating properly and who begins to feel faint, and is without help, has only about 10 seconds before losing consciousness. However, these victims can help themselves by coughing repeatedly and very vigorously.

A deep breath should be taken before each cough, and the cough must be deep and prolonged as when producing sputum from deep inside the chest, and a cough must be repeated about every two seconds without let up until help arrives, or until the heart is felt to be beating normally again. Deep breaths get oxygen into the lungs and coughing movements squeeze the heart to keep the blood circulating. The squeezing pressure on the heart also helps it regain normal rhythm. Heart attack victims in this way can get to a hospital in time.

I have made another friend if this helps save a life.

From the Internet, submitted by Dr. Daniel Rochman.

Puppy Love

When I was laid low with the flu
The doctor puzzled what to do
But Bruce, my dog, hopped on the bed
And cocked his little furry head.
His eyes were bright with sympathy
As he curled himself right next to me.
When I would murmur, "I feel so sick."
He'd give my hand a gentle lick.
He even tried to spread some joy
By bringing me his favorite toy.
No doubt the pills gave the flu a shove
But the healing came from a small dog's love.

Sachs, Sax & Klein, P.A.

What is the Effect on the Association When a Unit Owner is Delinquent in Their Mortgage Payments?

It happens all of the time. Unit owners get in over their heads and fail to make their monthly mortgage payments. Inevitably, they fail to make their regularly occurring assessment payments to the association as well. How does this affect the association's ability to collect delinquent maintenance assessments?

The filing of a claim of lien will ensure that, should the unit owner fail to pay his or her mortgage, the association will be served in any foreclosure proceedings filed by a mortgagee of the property. This is important as, at that point, the association would have the opportunity to monitor the action. In addition, if the property is sold at a foreclosure sale, and a third party purchases the unit at the sale, it is very possible that the association may recover some, if not all, of the assessments and costs of collection from the court registry as surplus funds may remain after disbursement to the mortgagee.

When a bank holding a mortgage files for foreclosure, the association legally still has the ability to foreclose upon its own lien. However, there are risks involved when proceeding in this manner. Should the unit owner fail to settle his or her debt to the bank, the matter will inevitably conclude with the property being sold at foreclosure sale. The association will likely end up losing costs and attorneys fees incurred in the action dealing with the association's lien. Furthermore, all delinquent assessments would have to be written off as the bank's rights to the property are legally superior to the association's. As such, unless a third party purchases the unit at foreclosure sale for a price above the judgment amount due to the bank, it is unlikely that the association will recover any monies in this situation.

foreclosure sale. Should the person acquiring title to the unit by virtue of foreclosure sale fail to pay the amounts due to the association within thirty (30) days after transfer of title, the association has the right to record a claim of lien against the unit.

In light of the foregoing, it is important to note that an association that is served with a mortgagee foreclosure action should immediately bring that action to the attention of their legal counsel in order to preserve all of their rights under their governing documents and Florida law.

New eyes really color my world

My Christmas present came early this year, the precious gift of perfect eyesight.

Like my colleague, Ron Wiggins, I, too, was nearsighted and had been wearing eye-glasses since the age of 10 or 11. As long as my specs corrected my vision to a near-normal state, I didn't mind. But in recent years, the eyes were getting worse and worse. To complicate matters, I developed cataracts on both eyes. Finally, it got to the point where stronger glasses just didn't help. My eyesight bothered me particularly at night while driving. I was OK on a well-lighted street, but if I hit a darker stretch of road, I was practically driving on instruments. And even in bright daylight, I had trouble reading street signs. As a result, I rarely, if ever, drove anywhere after sundown.

Unlike Ron Wiggins, who had much more complicated work done on his eyes mine initially called for removal of the cataracts, a fairly common procedure.

A tiny incision is made with a scalpel into the cornea, and the affected lens is removed and replaced with a plastic one.

Until fairly recently, the newly implanted lens was just clear plastic. The removal of the cataract would improve one's sight,

Until the cataract surgery, I saw only a murky, impressionistic version of everything around me.

of course, but only back to what it was before the growth of the cataract. In my case, that wouldn't have been all that great.

Using the latest method, Dr. Lawrence Katzen inserted not plain but plastic, UV intraocular prescription lenses, implanted for life. The result was that I now have 20/20 vision in both eyes.

I had the right eye operated on Oct. 16 at the JFK Surgical Center. Dr. Katzen was the surgeon. It was done on an outpatient basis, and the operation took just 10 minutes. I was conscious throughout. In fact, I chatted with the doctor and the nurses while the procedure went on. I could see the new lens being slipped gently into place.

Only a topical anesthesia was used. I was given a mild sedative to relax me, and then drops were placed in the eye to numb any feeling. No needles, no stitches afterward and absolutely no pain. In fact, I didn't even have to wear an eye patch.

Within minutes after the operation was completed, I was sitting up, drinking orange juice and eating a Danish pastry. Then I waited for a half-hour or so before my neighbor, Lynn Osiecki, drove me home. The next day, I drove myself to the doctor's office for a checkup.

On Oct. 30, I had the left eye done. Again, it was only a 10-minute job, an amazing progression from the days, not very long ago, when a cataract patient had to lie in a hospital bed for a week after surgery, head kept immobile by sandbags.

Naturally, some care must be taken for a few weeks after such surgery. I used antibiotic eyedrops daily, wore a plastic shield over the eye while sleeping to keep from rubbing it and had to be careful not to get water in the eye. But visual recovery is almost immediate, because the eye muscles are not paralyzed by anesthesia.

And now, thanks to the genius of Dr. Katzen, I have perfect eyesight.

I don't remember ever seeing things so clearly. Everything is so bright, as if the whole planet got shined up just for me.

For most of my life, I had been viewing the world through the eyes of a Claude Monet, getting a murky, impressionistic view of everything. Now, the sights around me could have been painted by Paul Gauguin, with great splashes of vivid color.

There are some drawbacks, of course. After the operations, I looked in my bathroom mirror and was shocked to see. How white my hair is now. When my eyesight was still poor, I thought my hair was staff and pepper. And the wrinkles in my skin have multiplied and seem much more pronounced.

A lady I know suggested a solution for that. "Do what women do," she said. "Turn down the lights."

George McEvoy is a columnist for The Palm Beach Post.

Stamps in the News

Syd Kronish

An anniversary to remember. To mark the 50th anniversary of the creation of Yad Vashem — the official Israeli Holocaust Remembrance Authority — the Israel Postal Authority will release a set of two 2.20 shekel stamps.

low Star of David which ghetto inmates were forced to wear by the Nazis. A story tells that the teddy bear with the star accompanied a young girl as she and her family fled to Siberia.

The second stamp depicts a list of Jewish forced laborers in the "Hassag" factory in Poland. Most of these laborers did not survive the Holocaust, either being shot or transported to the Treblinka concentration camp. Also shown is the yellow star transformed into the now-accepted blue Star of David.

The pair of stamps were released after September 9 and are available at your local stamp dealer.

The Israel Postal Authority also announced the issuance of a set of three stamps to celebrate the Jewish New Year Festivals of Rosh Hashanah, Yom Kippur and Succoth. The stamps highlight the important spiritual role of olive oil in Jewish history.

Featured on the 1.30 shekel stamp is the olive before being processed into olive oil. The 1.90 shekel stamp displays an old-fashioned crushing mill and storage jar used for the production of olive oil. The 2.30 shekel stamp depicts a clear glass jug of olive oil that continues to be consumed today.

The olive branch has become a symbol of peace to all nations and today is part of Israel's official emblem.

The New Year's stamps also became available after September 9 at your local stamp dealer.

JFCS BEREAVEMENT SUPPORT GROUP

Alpert Jewish Family & Children's Service continues to facilitate a bereavement support group which meets every Thursday at their office on Community Drive. The focus of the group relates to issues confronting widowed men and women. Most newly widowed or grieving people may often experience loneliness, sadness, and feelings of isolation, and support groups can help them to better understand the grieving process and feel less isolated. The support group will also provide emotional support and can help to rebuild their skills and confidence.

Show to Honor
Village Artist

By Rebecca Schlam Lutto

Lily Bondy, an acclaimed watercolor artist, paints in her "studio" in Wellington D (actually the condo's small bedroom).

Bondy is to be honored with a one-woman show in Tequesta from November 1 to 29. Her impressionistic watercolors have won 30 awards since she first exhibited in Vienna at age 11.

The artist paints landscapes from memory — her own vision of places she has visited: Tahiti, Easter Island, Israel and South Africa. In her "wet-in-wet" technique, which requires speed and imagination, she creates paintings often compared to Raoul Dufy's and John Marin's.

The exhibit is open to the public at Angilen Gallery, 150 North U.S. Highway 1, Fashion Mall, Tequesta. There will be an open house on Wednesday, November 12, from 6:00-8:00 pm

Retirement

We've worked so hard to reach this stage
And done without to save our wage.
But as our working days expire
A word crops up that says "Retire."
A word that many choose to fear
For their time hangs heavy, as if the end is near.
They can't conceive that their work is done
And they have earned the right to have some fun.
Imagine finding that when you wake,
You peer out the window and see a lake
Or a backdrop of mountains standing high
As a fishing boat goes sailing by.
Just think — to be able to sail away
With nothing to do but play all day.
Ah yes, we can have all this and more
If we only do not shut the door
For now we can make our life true joy
And this wonderful world can become our toy.

The Verdict is Funny

These are from a book called Disorder in the Court, and are things people actually said in court, word for word, taken down, and now published:

Q: Doctor, how many autopsies have you performed on dead people?

A: All my autopsies are performed on dead people.

Q: All your responses must be oral, OK? What school did you go to?

A: Oral.

Q: Do you recall the time that you examined the body?

A: The autopsy started around 8:30 pm.

Q: And Mr. Dennington was dead at the time?

A: No, he was sitting on the table wondering why I was doing an autopsy.

Q: Are you qualified to give a urine sample?

Q: Doctor, before you performed the autopsy, did you check for a pulse?

A: No.

Q: Did you check for blood pressure?

A: No.

Q: Were you present when your picture was taken?

Q: So the date of conception (of the baby) was August 8th?

A: Yes.

Q: And what were you doing at that time?

Q: She had three children, right?

A: Yes.

Q: How many were boys?

A: None.

Q: Were there any girls?

Q: How was your first marriage terminated?

A: By death.

Q: And by whose death was it terminated?

Q: The youngest son, the 20-year-old, how old is he?

Q: Can you describe the individual?

A: He was about medium height and had a beard.

Q: Was this a male, or a female?

Concerned About Skin Cancer?

Skin cancer is the most common of all cancers. It is estimated that it will be diagnosed in approximately 500,000 Americans this year. Skin cancer is more common in people with light colored skin who have experienced prolonged exposure to sunlight. Skin cancer can occur anywhere on your body, but it is most common in places that have been exposed to more sunlight, such as your face, neck, hands, and arms. The most common sign of skin cancer is a change on the skin, such as a growth or a sore that won't heal. Sometime there may be a small lump. This lump can be smooth, shiny and waxy looking, or it can be red or reddish brown. Skin cancer may also appear as a flat red spot that is rough or scaly. Not all changes in your skin are cancer, but you should see your doctor if you notice changes in your skin.

If you have a question about a condition affecting your skin's health or appearance, please contact our office. It is important to remember that skin diseases, diagnosed and treated in the early stages, can almost always be cured. Today, many safe and virtually painless procedures are available to eliminate or reduce unsightly blemishes and remove cancer before it can spread.

A Quartet — What Music Will They Play?

By Kurt Weiss

Once again, Israel is confronted with demands, this time in the form of a "Road Map" and subjected to the manipulations of a "Quartet" in which three out of four are avowed antagonists of the Jewish State.

In the United Nations, there never was a decision favoring Israel since the historical vote creating the State of Israel.

The United Nations is one of the four in that quartet.

The European Union (EU) consists of an ever growing number of states, led by France and Germany. Every one of these in the past were active participants in the Holocaust or were accomplices. Their anti-Semitic, anti-Israel attitude has not changed.

The EU is another of the four.

And then there is Russia. Shall I remind you of the pogroms in Czarist Russia or shall I just mention Stalin's persecution of the Jews and the Soviet Union's unwavering backing of Nasser of Egypt, Assad of Syria and the terrorist organizations? Russians are anti-Semitic. The current regime had close ties with Saddam Hussain. It was firmly against removing Saddam before and maintained its obstructionist anti-American stance, together with that other anti-Dreyfus, past Pe-tain anti-Semitic gang in France.

Russia is the third player in the quartet.

This leaves the United States as the only honest broker and benefactor of Israel.

Let me be optimistic and assume that the United States government will stay the course, will not use Israel as a bargaining chip to buy the friendship or at least the acquiescence of the Muslims towards the US policies in the Middle East. The "Road Map" as such is not much different from Ehud Barak's proposals, which were rejected by Arafat prior to the Intifada.

Admittedly, there are certain demands in the "Road Map" which have to be met by the Palestinians. The quid pro quo is clearly laid out. A Palestinian state for a secure Israel. This means an end to the Intifada, a dismantling of Hamas, Jihad and all the other terrorist gangs. Fat chance. And even if this should happen, which I doubt very much, once the sides sit down for negotiations on final borders and other crucial, vital matters such as Jerusalem, the return of Arab "refugees" and the dismantling of Israeli settlements in territories destined to be part of Arab Palestine — I see no way how these problems can ever find a satisfactory solution.

There is a proverb in Hebrew, which freely translated reads just about thus: "May the almighty save me from my friends — from my enemies I shall save myself."

Tough on Israel with only one true friend in the quartet, and that one friend already shows signs of a James Baker-like approach to the Arab-Israeli conflict. The pathetic hair-splitting as to whether Israel erects a "fence" to keep terrorists out, or a "wall" as Washington's newly found "friends" in Ramallah describe it, seems to have given the administration enough excuse to threaten Israel with a reduction in loan guarantees. We in Century Village know the difference between a fence and a wall. Washington seems to have difficulty in grasping the difference.

The administration approaches the question of fighting terror on a selective basis. "Do as I say — not as I do." This is a luxury Israel can ill afford.

Summer has ended and hopefully it was a good summer for all, wherever you were.

Artie and I have recently returned from a pleasant season in the Catskills, culminated by a beautiful fall trip to Boston, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Maine. As the old saying goes, "It's good to go and good to come back."

The Executive Board held their first meeting on October 2 with President Estelle Stepler presiding. Plans for the coming season were discussed. Don't forget our Sailing Club breakfast on Sunday, December 14. Reminder! Sailing Club meetings are on the second Friday of the month.

Check out the bulletin board at the dock for current information.

We are all looking forward to another great season.

For more information, call Estelle Stepler at 478-0900.

See you at the dock!

It's been the best of times and the worst of times, but the summer season has ended and it is time for the return of the snowbirds — that annual migration which rivals that of the swallows.

Has it been a hot summer for golf? Well, I don't know about the rest of the fellows, but I sure am glad that I have a garage in which I can take off every bit of my clothing, right down to my sweaty socks, before I enter the house and head for the shower after a round of summer golf.

To break the monotony of handicap tournaments during the summer months, we switched to "points." Not only did it give us a different format, it actually sped up the golf rounds since it mandated pickups after a missed bogie shot.

This column is written prior to the club's first meeting of the season. Future columns should include information from subsequent meetings, which are generally held the first Monday of the month at 1:00 pm at the Turtle Bay Golf Club. Men interested in joining the Century Village Men's Golf Club are always welcome at these meetings. You may also call Arnie Edelstein, 683-5552, if you are interested in becoming a member.

In the past two weeks, my drives on the 12th hole have used "Haskell's Bridge" twice with excellent results, leaving my ball within 20 yards of the green. A big thank you to My Hero for showing us that the bridge is more than just a way to get a person and/or a golf cart over the creek.

We have resumed our handicap tournaments in anticipation of the annual President's Cup competition. The early qualifying rounds and then the head-to-head matches which follow are both interesting and exciting.

Our Back-Niners continue to amaze me. I get to the golf course about 6:30 am on the three mornings a week that I play, and as I pull into the darkened parking lot each of those mornings, there are six or more cars already parked and golfers are lined up waiting for the least bit of light to show over the eastern horizon so that they can begin their nine-hole rounds. My guess is that there is not a single player under the age of 75 in that group and I know for a fact that there are two who are over 90. My hat is off to them!

Don't do as I do, do as I say. Hit 'em straight and long.

The summer season has ended with a bash — a Hal-loween bash on October 28. This special nine hole tournament sponsored by Donna Stoll, representing UBS, culminates with a fantastic lunch at the King Buffet, Okeechobee Boulevard. Turtle Bay Ladies Golf Club President Rhoda Weber announced the numerous prizes — longest drive, closest to the pin, closest to the fairway line, low gross, 3 low net, and 2 for low putts, even door prizes. This is the second year Donna Stoll, representing UBS, has treated us so royally.

The Long Hot Summer tournament season was busy, busy, busy. Jean Siciliano didn't let the heat bother her. She won seven tournaments! Setting a record! Kay Musso, riding in her new golf cart, won five times. Three golfers who won three times are: Lilli Silberman, Marilyn Bloom and Bootsie Mine.

Players winning twice were: Liz Consier, Lolly Pol-lack, Marilyn Radonski, Edie Reiter, Honey Sager and Shirley Seidman. Mar-cella Borders, Carolyn Cohn, Perle Metnick, Marge Pon-tenaro, Dot Rogers, Bobbie Shirman and Rhoda Weber were single digit tournament winners. Honorable mention to the gals who braved the heat and humidity go to Mary Carter, Cam Catchpole, Katherine Rudnic, Mary Torres, Barbara Sandomenico and Gerry Weiss.

Special kudos to the Beau-tification Committee, Mary Torres and Jean Siciliano, who did such a great job. The ladies locker room and the party room look spiffy. The new pictures are wonderful! And thanks to Barbara San-domenico for the one on Golf History.

New wall plaques will be nstalled for the "yearly" win-ners, announced President Rhoda Weber at a recent board meeting. She thanked the committee, Gerry Weiss, Carolyn Cohn and Liz Con-ier, for their help in search-ing for the best display and price for these 10-year period plaques.

For Visually Impaired

A support group for the visually impaired will meet once a month on the third Thursday of each month, beginning May 15th. Room A at 1:30 pm.

The group will be facilitated by a professional from Alpert Jewish Family and Children's Services and will provide both support-ive counseling and techno-logical information for individuals adjusting to macular disease or other visual problems.

Please call 684-1991 for more information.

To all Associations

why

having an in-house Rehabilitation Center should matter to hip and knee replacement patients.

A smart way to promote a patient's recovery after joint replacement is to develop an individual treatment plan that identifies goals, coordinates efforts and helps to ensure all therapies are carried through to recovery. The joint replacement program at St. Mary's Medical Center offers patients this type of comprehensive care utilizing a team of caregivers under one roof. As a result, many of St. Mary's joint replacement patients regain their strength, balance and the activities of daily life. St. Mary's joint replacement program features:

- The Rehabilitation Institute at St. Mary's, offering comprehensive lifestyle rehabilitation, including physical, occupational, speech and recreational therapies
- Continuity of care, with both a comprehensive inpatient rehabilitation unit and outpatient therapy programs

- A dedicated orthopedic unit with all private rooms
- Specialized physicians on staff as a feature of our state-designated trauma center
- A pain management center

Helpful Hints From Village Mutual

By Larry Kall, President

"Palm's Pesky Perplexing Permits"

Palm Beach County requires an inspection permit when any of the following items are replaced in your condo:

- Hot water tank
- Air conditioning condensing unit — outside your condo
- Air conditioning air handler — inside your condo

In April 2003, Palm Beach County made some changes in the permit procedure that now gives you, the consumer, two options:

Option one — the installing contractor may purchase (for a fee from the County) waivers of the inspection. The contractor has to be in good standing with the County in order to do so. In other words, not have many previous complaints about their work. Under option one, you will be asked if you want to sign a waiver form, again for a fee. If you do sign the form, the installation can be done faster as the contractor has already purchased waivers and has them on hand. If you do not sign the waiver form, no work can be done and you will have to go to option two. Even if you do sign the waiver, the County may chose to do an inspection anyway. However, if they do, they will not charge the higher inspection fee. The County plans to do about one in ten. If they do decide to do an inspection you will be contacted to arrange an appointment. You must allow the inspection to be done.

Option two — you can choose to have a mandatory inspection done by the County and pay a substantially higher inspection fee for the permit. If you chose option two, no work can be done until the County issues the actual permit in usually four to five days.

The changes are only for some plumbing and air conditioning permits. Waivers do not apply to most other items that need permits such as construction, electrical, roofs, etc.

There has been an announcement on our Channel 63 relative to "obsolete parts" for air conditioners and I thought that some clarification is required. Village Mutual, like other service contracts, offers replacement coverage for central air conditioners. No one, to my knowledge, offers replacement coverage for window air conditioners. While I cannot speak for other companies that offer replacement coverage for the central air systems, the replacement coverage from Village Mutual has no reference to "obsolete parts." If a unit can no longer be repaired, it will be replaced with a new unit. The only cost to the customer is for the required County inspection fee and electrical upgrade. Both are mandated by the County.

This is a schedule that UCO has put into effect to better serve the community, and to expand upon when necessary.

Note: The drivers have nothing to do with the schedule. Please be nice and if you are displeased, write your Transportation Committee.

Note: You will now be able to go from your home directly to Publix and return without changing buses.

The internal buses will run once every hour.

Please be at your bus stop 10 minutes before your scheduled time.

DON'T FORGET...

WE DO BUS CHARTERS

Ships, dinner theater, shows, airports, flea markets, bingo, jai alai, etc. We go anywhere in Florida. Prices that can't be beat.
